Katherine L. Vaccaro of of Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox, LLP Participated in National Webinar
on Industrial Boiler MACT
(Maximum Achievable Control Technology)

Philadelphia, PA (March 26, 2012) – On Thursday, March 22, Katherine L. Vaccaro, an attorney with Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox, LLP (MGKF), the environmental, energy and land use law and litigation firm based in Bala Cynwyd, PA, served on a panel of experts on a national webinar. Hosted by McIlvaine Company, the Hot Topic Hour presentation was on “Industrial Boiler MACT - Impact and Control Options”.

During her segment, Vaccaro discussed the current regulatory status of the Boiler MACT (Maximum Achievable Control Technology) and EPA’s Proposed Reconsideration of the rule, the judicial challenges to the rule that are still pending before the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals, and how the uncertainty created by these circumstances impacts boiler owners and operators. She also focused on some of the key aspects of EPA’s Proposed Reconsideration of the Boiler MACT, including certain relevant compliance deadlines, and highlighted some of the principal concerns voiced by industry in response to EPA’s proposal.

Vaccaro has experience advising clients on issues related to regulatory compliance, litigation, and transactional matters, particularly in the area of air quality. She has represented industrial and commercial entities, ranging from Fortune 500 corporations to closely held companies, as well as municipalities, in complex matters. She has also written on a variety of air quality regulatory issues. Vaccaro earned her Juris Doctor from the Temple University James E. Beasley School of Law and her bachelor's degree in biology, summa cum laude, from Drexel University.

MGKF concentrates its practice in environmental, energy, and land use law and litigation. It represents clients ranging from Fortune 100 corporations to small, privately held enterprises, both in the Mid-Atlantic region and on a national basis. MGKF was honored to be the top-rated law firm in the Top Workplaces 2011 and 2012 surveys by the Philadelphia Inquirer, Daily News and Philly.com.
