Jill Hyman Kaplan and Michael C. Nines
of Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox, LLP, Presented “Managing Risk During EHS Auditing – The Attorney-Client Privilege”

2011 AUDITING ROUNDTABLE
Wednesday, September 7, 2011

Philadelphia, PA (September 7, 2011) – Jill Hyman Kaplan, a partner with the environmental and energy law firm of Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox, LLP (“MGKF”) and MGKF technical consultant, Michael C. Nines, P.E., LEED AP, participated in a recent program at the 2011 Fall National Meeting of the Auditing Roundtable entitled “Managing Risk During EHS Auditing—The Attorney-Client Privilege”. Held on September 7-9, 2011, Kaplan and Nines presented on September 7th and focused on many details about the performance of an audit under attorney-client privilege. They also reviewed key elements of EPA's and certain State's audit policies.

At MGKF, Kaplan has a wide variety of experience in environmental counseling and litigation. Her current practice includes matters relating to brownfield redevelopment; environmental aspects of real estate development and management; environmental, health, and safety audits; asbestos, mold, and indoor air quality; lender liability; environmental insurance; hazardous and non-hazardous waste regulations; storm water issues; Occupational Safety and Health Administration ("OSHA") issues; and site contamination and cleanup issues.

A Pennsylvania-licensed professional engineer, Michael Nines has over ten years of diverse environmental engineering experience gained through previous employment in the manufacturing sector, environmental consulting, and with an international chemical manufacturing trade association. He currently provides technical services to the firm's attorneys and clients regarding complex manufacturing processes, multi-media pollution control, and high-performance green building techniques.

MGKF concentrates its practice in environmental, energy, and land use law and litigation. It represents clients ranging from Fortune 100 corporations to small, privately held enterprises, both in the Mid-Atlantic region and on a national basis. MGKF was honored to be the top-rated law firm in the Top Workplaces 2011 survey by the Philadelphia Inquirer, Daily News and Philly.com. Offices are located at 401 City Avenue, Suite 500, Bala Cynwyd, Pennsylvania and 535 Route 38, Suite 145A, Cherry Hill, New Jersey.
