MICHAEL MELOY AND BART CASSIDY OF MANKO, GOLD, KATCHER & FOX, LLP TO SPEAK AT ENVIRONMENTAL ROADSHOW

Philadelphia, PA (April 8, 2008) –Michael Meloy and Bart Cassidy, partners with Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox, LLP (MGKF), an environmental, energy and land use law firm, will speak at the Environmental Roadshow on Thursday, May 8 at Rivercrest Golf Club in Phoenixville, PA. The Environmental Roadshow is presented by All4 Inc., an environmental consulting company based in Kimberton, PA.

The premise of the Environmental Roadshow is that business owners and project managers have environmental issues (i.e. environmental antiques) that are either costing their company money or that have value of which they are unaware. To enable attendees to evaluate these “environmental antique(s)” (or identify new ones), the Environmental Roadshow offers one-on-one meetings with and presentations by “expert appraisers,” including environmental consultants, equipment vendors, attorneys, and regulators. At the conclusion of the meetings and presentations, guests are invited to meet with real antique appraisers for feedback on any real antiques that they have brought from home.

Meloy’s presentation, “Trash or Cash: Pennsylvania’s New Waste Rules,” will focus on major changes to Pennsylvania’s municipal and residual waste regulations that are anticipated. These changes will affect virtually all businesses in Pennsylvania. Meloy has a legal and engineering background and represents clients in connection with a broad spectrum of environmental litigation, regulatory and transactional issues. He chairs the Solid Waste Advisory Committee for the Pennsylvania Chamber of Business and Industry and has taken a leading role on behalf of the regulated community in the development and implementation of Pennsylvania’s waste regulations. Meloy serves on the Pennsylvania Cleanup Standards Scientific Advisory Board and the Delaware Basin Regional Water Resources Committee. He has chaired the Agricultural Law Committee of the Pennsylvania Bar Association and is also a member of the Advisory Council of the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering at the University of Delaware.

Cassidy will serve as one of the Roadshow’s environmental appraisers, offering individual consultation in the area of environmental law. Cassidy also brings a legal and engineering background to MGKF, where he assists clients with a broad range of environmental issues, including air and water quality control, waste management, storage tank issues and business and real estate transactions. Cassidy represents clients in responding to agency enforcement actions and in litigation of environmental matters before state and federal administrative and judicial tribunals. In addition to being a member of the bar in several jurisdictions, Cassidy is also a licensed Professional Engineer.

The Environmental Roadshow will be held at the Rivercrest Golf Club, 100 Golf Club Drive, Phoenixville, PA, on Thursday, May 8 from 1 to 5:30 p.m. To register for free, visit www.all4inc.biz/roadshow. For more information call 610-933-5246, ext. 33.
