Michael C. Gross,
Partner at Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox, LLP, Presents Vapor Intrusion's Legal Landscape
on May 13, 2013

Philadelphia, PA (April 11, 2013) – Michael C. Gross, a partner with Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox, LLP (MGKF), the environmental, energy and land use law firm based in Bala Cynwyd, PA, will be a panelist on a webinar on Monday, May 13, 2013 from 2 to 3 p.m. EDT. It is entitled, “Vapor Intrusion – Legal Concerns, Risk Management, and Scientific Factors for Attorneys and their Clients” on behalf of the American Law Institute.

Vapor intrusion is a top environmental concern since it presents both liability and health issues for regulators, attorneys and property owners. Gross will focus specifically on the legal concerns and risk avoidance, including environmental due diligence, litigation and legal liability concerns, reopening previously remediated site, as well as liability avoidance strategies.

Gross focuses his practice at MGKF on environmental issues arising in corporate/real estate/energy transactions, brownfields redevelopment, and regulatory compliance matters. He represents a broad range of clients, including industrial entities, real estate developers, energy providers, and municipalities in a wide array of complex environmental matters.

Prior to joining the firm, Michael spent six years on Capitol Hill, working as an environmental policy legislative assistant and press secretary for three Members of the United States House of Representatives. Gross was also appointed to serve on former Pennsylvania Governor Edward G. Rendell's environmental policy transition team and the Vapor Intrusion Task Group of ASTM International, charged with crafting a uniform standard for assessing vapor intrusion risks in commercial real estate transactions.

Gross received his Juris Doctor from Temple University School of Law. He has his Bachelor of Arts in history from Colorado College and his Master's Degree in Government from Johns Hopkins University.
