Philadelphia, PA (March 27, 2014) - Bart E. Cassidy, a partner with Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox, LLP (MGKF), the environmental, energy and land use law and litigation firm based in Bala Cynwyd, PA, will speak at the Pennsylvania Chamber of Business and Industry's Environmental Conference that will take place in Lancaster on Thursday, April 10, 2014 at 1 p.m.

Cassidy's program, entitled, "Federal and State Air Quality Regulations and Recent Developments and Updates," will focus on significant changes during the past year in air quality programs that affect Pennsylvania businesses, as well as best practices for facility air quality compliance systems. He'll be joined by John Slade from All4, Inc. for a team-teaching approach to provide both legal and technical compliance strategies.

At MGKF, Cassidy combines his legal, technical, and business skills to assist clients with a broad spectrum of environmental issues, including air and water quality control, waste management, storage tank issues, business and real estate transactions, and administrative litigation. He is a licensed Professional Engineer in addition to being a licensed attorney. His engineering education and experience have proven to be a valuable asset in providing environmental regulatory counseling to clients, particularly in the highly technical realm of air quality control, and in litigating environmental matters before federal and state courts and administrative tribunals.

It represents clients ranging from Fortune 100 corporations to small, privately held enterprises, both in the Mid-Atlantic region and on a national basis.
