Philadelphia, PA (June 19, 2014) – Suzanne Ilene Schiller, a litigation partner with the environmental, law and litigation firm of Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox, LLP (MGKF), will be a panelist on an upcoming American Law Institute CLE (ALI-CLE) program entitled, “Vapor Intrusion: Today’s Litigation, Regulatory and Scientific Landscape.” The panelists will share practical advice on the regulatory, litigation and scientific landscape of vapor intrusion—the migration of volatile chemicals from subsurface water or soils into overlying buildings. Understanding and addressing vapor intrusion issues is critically important for property owners, developers, lenders, and landlords, as they have become subject to growing regulation and are increasingly a subject of class action and large scale litigation.
