John F. Gullace of
Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox, LLP,
Panelist for “Environmental Remediation In a Fish Bowl” at the 2015 Railroad Environmental Conference

Philadelphia, PA (October 15, 2015) – Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox partner John F. Gullace will serve as a panelist on an October 28 panel entitled, “Environmental Remediation In A Fish Bowl: Conducting a Remediation in the Midst of a Complex Transaction”. This program is part of the 2015 Railroad Environmental Conference to be held October 27-28 at the University of Illinois at Urbana—Champaign. For more information and to register, visit http://railtec.illinois.edu/RREC/conf\_contact.php.

For more than two decades, Gullace has handled environmental litigation, remediation, emergency response and compliance matters with the environmental law firm Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox, located just outside of Philadelphia. He works with a team of 28 environmental attorneys and two in-house technical consultants assisting regional and national clients in multiple jurisdictions with their environmental, energy, safety and land use matters, as well as related litigation.

Gullace is currently listed in Chambers USA for environmental law and in The Best Lawyers® in America for environmental litigation. He has also been included in the Pennsylvania Super Lawyers listing for environmental litigation since 2012.

He is very active with the American Bar Association’s Section of Environment, Energy and Resources. Gullace has held numerous committee positions and is currently the Vice Chair of the Superfund and Natural Resource Damages Litigation Committee. He also serves on the Board of Directors for the Lower Merion Conservancy.
