TO SPEAK ON EPA'S "ENDANGERMENT FINDING" FOR GREENHOUSE GASES

Philadelphia, PA (February 11, 2010) – The Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) recent "endangerment finding" for greenhouse gases has raised many questions about how the federal government may approach climate change regulation in the near term. Todd Kantorczyk, a partner with Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox (MGKF), an environmental and energy law firm, will discuss the history and potential ramifications of EPA's endangerment finding at a breakfast seminar sponsored by the Delaware Valley Chapter of the Air & Waste Management Association (A&WMA) and hosted by MGKF on Thursday, February 18. "EPA's Endangerment Finding for Greenhouse Gases: Rationale and Ramifications" will be held at the firm's office located at 401 City Avenue in Bala Cynwyd, Pa., from 7:30 to 9 a.m.

At MGKF, Kantorczyk focuses his practice on litigation and regulatory compliance counseling, covering a wide range of national, state and local environmental programs. His areas of concentration include air, climate change and energy matters, as well as "toxic tort" litigation. Kantorczyk is a member of the ABA Committee on Climate Change, Sustainable Development and Ecosystems. He received his Juris Doctor from UCLA School of Law and his Bachelor of Arts in government from Cornell University.

The cost for "EPA's Endangerment Finding for Greenhouse Gases: Rationale and Ramifications" is $20 for members of the A&WMA and $25 for non-members. To register for the breakfast seminar contact Jennifer Flannery by emailing Jennifer.flannery@erm.com.
