Brett Slensky, Esq. of Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox, LLP Addresses the University of Delaware's College of Earth, Ocean and Environment

April 22, 2014

Philadelphia, PA (April 3, 2014) – Brett Slensky, an attorney with Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox, LLP (MGKF), the environmental, energy and land use law and litigation firm based in Bala Cynwyd, PA, will address freshman students in the College of Earth, Ocean and Environment at the University of Delaware (UD) on Tuesday, April 22. Slensky is a 1994 graduate of UD.

Slensky will talk about his path from choosing an environmental science major to pursuing a law degree. He'll also discuss some of the types of work he does as an environmental attorney and his personal and professional experiences that led him to practice at MGKF.

"When I was at UD, I wish I were more aware of all the available options with my degree early on in my schooling," said Slensky. He continued, "It is great to have the chance to help enlighten some of the UD students about some of the possible opportunities and career paths for their science degrees."

At MGKF, Slensky concentrates his practice on the environmental aspects of commercial transactions, property development issues, regulatory compliance and renewable energy. In the transactional context, he advises clients on a range of due diligence and permitting issues, applicable state and federal liability protections, and the negotiation and structure of the pertinent deal documents. In the regulatory compliance area, Slensky assists clients to meet their particular environmental compliance objectives, including the implementation of practical management strategies and programs for one or multiple facilities, addressing discrete issues that may arise in connection with daily operations, and proactive management of enforcement and business risks.

Prior to joining the firm, he practiced environmental law at Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP. He also has a technical background, including professional experience as an environmental consultant, which compliments and adds to his diverse skill set.

MGKF concentrates its practice in environmental, energy, and land use law and litigation. It represents clients ranging from Fortune 100 corporations to small, privately held enterprises, both in the Mid-Atlantic region and on a national basis. For the tenth consecutive year, MGKF has been listed in the top tier for environmental law in Chambers USA—America's Leading Lawyers for Business.
