Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox Welcomes New Associate Claudia Colón García-Moliner

Philadelphia, PA (September 26, 2016) – Claudia Colón García-Moliner has joined the environmental, energy, safety, land use law and litigation firm of Manko, Gold, Katcher & Fox, LLP (MGKF), based just outside of Philadelphia, PA. She recently completed a judicial clerkship for the Honorable Denise Hinds-Roach of the Superior Court of the Virgin Islands, Family Division in St Croix, U.S. Virgin Islands. As a new associate, Claudia rounds out a team of 30 attorneys, three technical consultants and three paralegals.

“Throughout law school, Claudia was involved in a variety of environmental and energy internships that provided her with a broad spectrum of experiences that will undoubtedly bring a fresh perspective to our clients,” said Hiring Partner Kate Campbell.

Claudia attended the Vermont Law School (VLS) and received her Bachelor of Science (Environmental Science) from Villanova University. During law school, she worked with the Environmental Quality Board of Puerto Rico, was part of the Clean Energy and Climate Change Program for the Conservation Law Foundation, and clerked at McGregor and Legere, PC in Boston, MA where she focused on environmental and real estate matters.

Additionally, Claudia served as a Research Associate at the Energy Clinic for the Institute for Energy and the Environment. In her role here, she helped guide the Vermont Law School's request for proposal process and subsequent contract negotiations for a 20-year net-metering agreement with a 500KW solar array project. Her work earned her the John Delemarre Award for her participation in the RFP team and "outstanding service to the VLS community in the enrichment and stewardship of the law school physical environment."

*MGKF concentrates its practice in environmental, energy, litigation, safety and land use law.
